

Normanby News

Autumn 2, Issue 5

11 . 11 . 16

Glorious Greenpower Is A Go!

Last Friday (4th November), the whole school took part in raising money for the Greenpower racing car project. Many of the Normanby Primary students came into the school wearing their pyjamas and dressing gowns in their masses! The Greenpower team, (lead by Mrs Dunning) are working extremely hard to raise money and awareness for their racing car project. Mrs Dunning stated that the group had previously raised £150 from their bake sale and were currently still counting the money which they had received from the famous pyjamas day. The group's vision is to build a car that will be battery ran. Despite many donations and contributions from various others, the team are still a little way off their target. Mrs Dunning has urged that:

'If anybody has anymore ideas to raise money then please come forward and help out!'

From all the Normanby News Team we wish you the best of luck!

Exciting Editor Visit

Friday also saw the visit of Ian McNeal, (The Evening Gazette Deputy Editor). Mr McNeal had been asked by Mr Shallow to come into school and speak with Y5, Y6 and a small handful of Y4 students. Ian spoke to the children about his day-to-day work and explained what it was like to work for the Gazette. The children hung on Ian's every word and were impressed with his stories about the many famous and well known people he had met. After the assembly, the Normanby News Team then went to the sunshine room to speak about our very own student newspaper. Mr McNeal was blown away by the skills that the news team possessed and had also announced to Mr Shallow (and the Normanby News Team) that he rarely went into schools (so, this was a particularly lucky visit). One Y6 student stated that:

'I thought that it was very interesting that he was inspired by his teachers'.

How well do you know? Miss Bottomley

What has been your most embarrassing moment in your career?
Defeated in Beat The Bomb (multiplication test) by a child in my class.

What has been your favourite subject to teach this year?
The human digestive system

What do you like doing in your spare time?
Reading and walking the dog (Lacey, a cross between a staffy and a shar pei).

What is your favourite TV show?
Gogglebox.

(Pictured right—Miss Bottomley and Mr Shallow with Egyptian artefacts from Y4).

