Religious Education

Our overarching aim of spiritual, moral, social and cultural education is to provide all children with opportunities to develop the skills they will need to become a good citizen. One who is proud to belong to a diverse and multicultural community that extends into the wider world. Our Religious Education curriculum equips children with a systematic knowledge and understanding of a range of religions and world views that encourages them to develop their own ideas, values and identities. We nurture children's curiosity to explore their community, and strive to develop in all of our students an aptitude for dialogue so that they can participate positively in our society with its diverse religions and world views. We promote mutual respect and tolerance, teaching our pupils to challenge prejudice and see the value of others.

Pupils should be taught to:

- Develop a knowledge and understanding of Christianity and its impact on our local community, and on our society today.
- Develop a knowledge and understanding of other principle religious and non-religious belief traditions represented in Britain today.
- Learn to discriminate between those traditions, belief and practice that deserve respect, and practices and beliefs that can lead them into danger.
- Grow in their spiritual development.
- Develop a sense of awe, wonder and mystery.
- Develop skills and attitudes that will support their personal, moral, social and cultural development.
- Explore some questions of meaning and consider the different ways humankind has responded to them.
- Think about their own beliefs and values in the light of the beliefs of others – both religious and non-religious and the values of the school community.
